Promise Ridge

housing crisis.

OUR WORK

In 2018, Promise Ridge opened its doors to women with children who are experiencing crisis leading to homelessness. We can house 5 families at a time in a family focused atmosphere.

Families share common meal areas, work together to care for the home, and develop positive relationships and skills by living in a community.

Our staff works with our guests to set and work toward long term housing goals and assist them with finding resources to move forward.

It is our hope that women entering our shelter will transition to permanent housing within 60-90 days.

A HOME WITH A HISTORY OF HELPING

The Vision began in 2018 with Peggy Sharp

"Peggy saw Promise Ridge as part of the puzzle to combat homelessness in Idaho Falls for families. She understood that the problem of homelessness is complicated and messy. It is the result of generational poverty, mental illness, substance abuse, and so much more.

At St. Vincent dePaul, she saw children living in cars or couch surfing and wanted to provide a safe place for them besides just a hotel room for a night. Promise Ridge is that place of shelter from the storm.

Promise Ridge is a short-term reprieve from the stress of living without basic necessities."

-Liz Marsden,
daughter of Peggy Sharp
